A Tribute

We are extending this tribute to one whose personality proclaims the eloquence of goodness—Mrs. Bessie R. Porter. We feel that this is a means of expressing our lasting affection and gratitude to her, for she has faithfully served in guiding the welfare of the female students as director of Williams Hall. Congratulations to you, Mrs. Porter, for helping students live happily in the dormitory. May your honest heart and sound guidance be with us always.

Dedication

We dedicate this yearbook to one who for many years served as advisor to LE DIABLE BLEU and who during those years labored, served, and compassionately guided yearbook staffs towards completing their annuals.

As a member of the Art faculty he has deeply influenced scores of students whom he has taught, and his dedicated spirit and jovial, amiable personality during his twelve years at Dillard have endeared him to students and faculty alike.

It is with deepest appreciation that we dedicated this 1966 LE DIABLE BLEU to Mr. Vernon Winslow, Assistant Professor of Art.

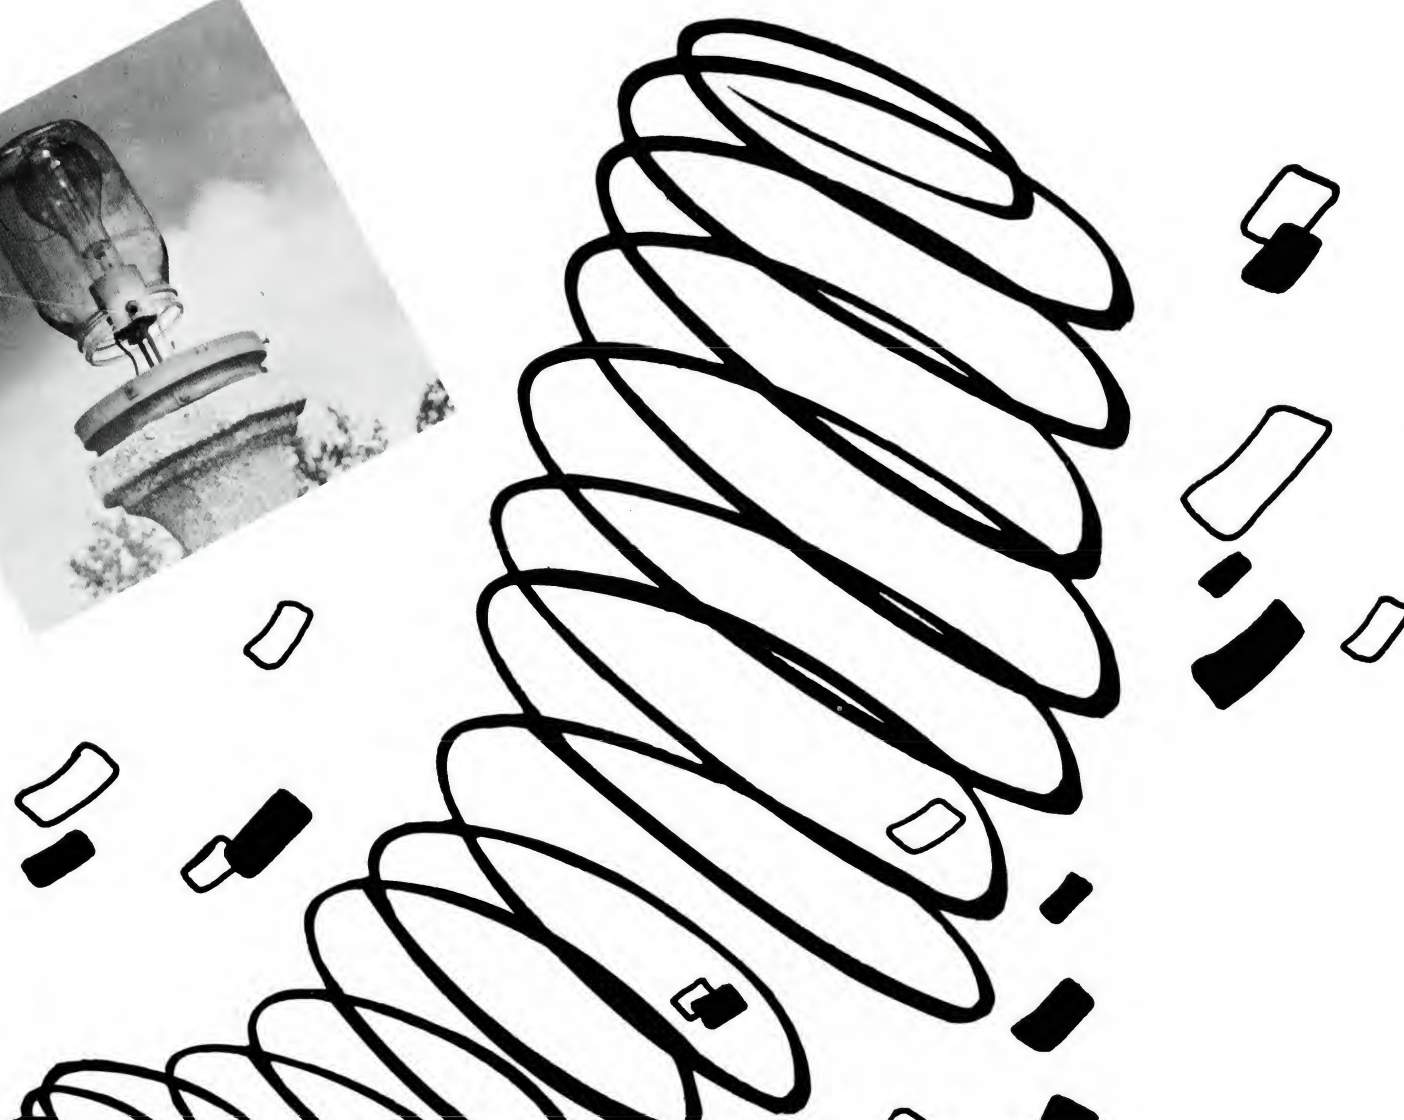

Advising the 1965 LE DIABLE BLEU

Like a mighty oak, we stood the test.

AFTER THE STORM

We stopped for a moment to think about the way things used to be . . .

We inspected the damage . . .

We cleaned up . . .

We repaired the damage . . .

And we carried on.

DILLARD UNIVERSITY
NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA 70122

Dear Students:

For those of you who will depart from the campus this year, I wish genuine happiness and the greatest of success in all your endeavors.

While at Dillard you have acquired some of the competence and values you will need for continued self-development and service to your community. But your learning process will continue.

Your Alma Mater will expect you to make the most of your future opportunities and I hope you will remember that Dillard needs your support in our constant effort to help others as you have been helped.

For those of us who will remain here, I have exceedingly high hopes that together we may continue to develop a stimulating atmosphere for an enriched campus life.

Sincerely yours,
Albert W. Dent

DIVISION OF THE NATURAL SCIENCES

The Division of the Natural Sciences offers concentrations in biology, chemistry, mathematics, and physics. It seeks to satisfy the needs of three groups of students: (1) students who plan to concentrate in the sciences; (2) non-science students who will pursue certain science courses; and (3) students who seek to satisfy basic science requirements for entering the clinical branch of nursing.

The Division has the following objectives: (1) the development of appreciations for and interests in the scientific aspects of modern civilization; (2) the development of competence in the use of scientific methods of problem-solving; (3) the development of attitudes born of scientific method; and (4) the training of students in the more specialized branches of science preparatory to advanced or professional study.

Dr. John Furey
Professor of Political Science

In the Division of the Social Sciences, courses are offered in three areas of concentration: economics and business administration, history and government, and sociology and anthropology.

The general objectives of the Division are: (1) to assist the student in achieving the necessary knowledge for personal, social, and vocational development; (2) to provide a cultural background for the students whose major interests are in other divisions; and (3) to help the student develop the necessary tools of thought, drawing on both science and experience, to enable him to arrive at valid and usable judgment.

DIVISION OF NURSING

Mrs. Laura J. Goods
Assistant Professor of Nursing

Miss Edwina D. Frank
Instructor in Nursing

Mrs. Elaine C. Gowell
Assistant Professor of Nursing

Mrs. Seolia F. Beamon
Instructor in Nursing

Mrs. Myrtis J. Snowden
Assistant Professor of Nursing

Miss Rita E. Miller, Professor of Nursing,
Chairman, Division of Nursing

The Division of Nursing is an outgrowth of the pressing demand for nurses to meet the basic health problems which affect the health of the entire nation. The four-year curriculum includes the biological and physical sciences, social sciences, humanities, medical sciences, nursing and allied arts, and other general education courses.

The Division proposes to prepare the student to function as a professional nurse in beginning practice for nursing and health services to the individual, the family, in the hospital and in the community; and to provide her with a foundation for continued self-development and graduate study.

DIVISION OF THE SOCIAL SCIENCES

Dr. Lou LaBrant, Professor of English, Chairman, Division of the Humanities

DIVISION OF HUMANITIES

The Division of the Humanities seeks to encourage in the student an appreciation for his cultural heritage and to inspire his reflective thinking upon the nature and the meaning of human enterprise as these are reflected in the world of art and literature.

Major fields in the Division are: English, Art, Modern Foreign Languages, Music, Religion and Philosophy, and Speech and Drama.

DIVISION OF EDUCATION

The Division of Education aims at the preparation of students for teaching in the kindergarten, elementary, and secondary schools. Major fields of concentration are: Elementary Education, Psychology, Physical Education and Health, and Special Education. Included in the program are courses which prepare teachers of exceptional children in two areas: (1) teaching of the mentally retarded; and (2) teaching of the physically handicapped.

"See you after the ball, handsome."

A "Blimp" get-together?

"And then she said . . ."

"I can't figure out how they got that table in here."

"Seven ball in the corner pocket!"

"WHO'S an egghead?!"

"We ain't!"

"But I CAN'T join your fraternity!"

A part of work-study?

"Oh, Oh. Here she comes."

"I keep telling those fellows not to monopolize this bench."
